NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by Mr. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It is used without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 23.

Washington News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The Herald's Washington dispatch says the movement alluded to some time ago, favoring a modification of the laws affecting incomes is assumed to be more formidable. The general character of the plan proposed is to increase the tax on whisky to $1 per gallon, which, it is claimed, will realize $80,000,000, if the means now within the Internal Revenue Bureau for the prevention of fraud be adopted, from tobacco at least $30,000,000; from fermented liquors, $10,000,000; from licenses, $10,000,000. Therefore a modified income tax of about $15,000,000 will be required to make a total of $155,000,000—an amount equal to Secretary Boutwell's estimate of the expenditures for the present fiscal year. The plan is to confine the income tax to the tax on the interest paid on the National debt of 5 per cent, to be deducted when the interest is paid. This will realize $6,255,000, without a dollar of expense incurred in its collection. The balance, it is proposed to raise by taxing incomes derived from surplus property embraced in stocks, banks, railways and other incorporations, and interest paid on the bonds of such corporations.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A Tribune Washington special says there is much excitement over the discovery that a lock adopted by Government for its use and prescribed for the banks which keep Government funds, can easily be picked. This fact has been demonstrated to General Spinner. All the plates for Government currency bonds have been kept under these locks, workmen having access to the room where safes were, and knowing the process, could open them without breaking or noise of any kind.

The estimated savings to the Government will amount, by the reduction of the force in the Treasury Department, to $50,000 a month. Several more removals will be made upon the return of Secretary Boutwell.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Copies of the will of Andrew J. Butler, and inventories and schedules filed by Gen. B. F. Butler have been published. It appears that the estate is insolvent. No money remains to be divided among the heirs.

Two undertakers engaged in a quarrel who should bury the corpse of a woman named Sutton, who died on Saturday. One was sent by the coroner who investigated the case, the other by the woman's friends. The police were called in, and the matter referred to Commissioner Walling, who referred it to the Public Administrator. In the meantime the body remains unburied.

Colonel Quesada, brother of the Cuban General-in-Chief, arrived on Saturday on a diplomatic mission, and bearer of important dispatches for the Cuban authorities.

A death by yellow fever occurred on Canal street yesterday. The party was recently from the South.

The rate of freight west to-day is understood to be 40 cents per 100 pounds.

Hiram Halbridge has resigned the presidency of the new Mediterranean steamship Company.

The Knights of St. Crispin paraded to day one thousand five hundred strong.

Hallock, of the Journal of Commerce, starts a new evening paper this week. It will be called the Republic.

Captain Shaw of the London fire brigade, will make a tour of the principal Southern and Western cities, and will probably, upon his return home, recommend for adoption some features of the American system.

Railroad freights west to-day have advanced to 38 cents to Chicago. It is reported that contracts for the consolidation of the Central and Hudson companies are ready for ratification and are about to be signed.

The proprietors of the Cummunipaw abattoir disregards the injunction as usual. Butchers are excited and threaten vengeance against the city, and threaten to burn the abattoir unless the nuisance is abated.

There was a case of cholera to-day.

Frederick Daw of Elizabeth, was clubbed to death by a policeman last night.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—The Tribune's New York special says the certificate of incorporation of the Mediterranean and Oriental Steamship Company to run from Norfolk to Cadiz and thence to Suez, was filed on Saturday in the County Clerks office.

A morning paper publishes a story implicating several Navy Yard officials in frauds said to amount to $100,000 yearly.

A demonstration took place at Limerick, August 1st, to favor the release of Fenian prisoners. Twenty thousand persons from Clare, Limerick and Tipperary, including organized trades, marched through the city, held a mass meeting, and passed appropriate resolutions.

Halifax Dispatch.

HALIFAX, Aug. 23.—Prince Arthur arrived this morning in the city. Two companies of Highlanders formed a guard of honor. The streets in the vicinity were crowded. Governor General Young and Lieutenant Governor Doyle, went aboard the ship and returned the following day with the Prince, Col. Elpinstone, the Princess, the Governor and Lieutenant Packard. The appearance of the Prince elicited applause. A band played the natal anthem. The Prince immediately entered the carriage and was driven to the Government House. He attended special service in the garrison chapel at half past five o'clock. A formal landing is to take place at her Majesty's dock yard to-morrow, when the Prince will be received by Governor General Young, Admiral Mulby, Vice Admiral Wellesley, Lieut. Gov. Doyle, Judges of the Supreme Court and members of local and provincial governments. An address is to be presented by the Mayor. The bells will be rung, and there will be an illumination this evening.

Miscellaneous.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—An Omaha special says Superintendent Hammond is organizing a Union express line, which is to be under the company's control, and to commence business September 15th, connecting at Promontory with the C. P. Express Company.

Three notorious desperadoes, Buck Holbrook, Johnny Murphy and Fitzgerald, broke jail at Hennepin, Illinois, yesterday morning, and attempted an escape. The two former were shot dead and and Fitzgerald escaped. All three were old thieves and ruffians and well known in this city.

A dispatch from Camp Supply, in Indian Territory, says the Peace Commissioners on Saturday had a most important meeting with the Cheyennes and Arapahoes. A large number of chiefs were present and full two thousand men, women and children were outside. The council lasted two hours. The result is considered to be most favorable.

Accounts from all sections in Maryland represent the drouth as prevailing to an alarming extent. In some counties the farmers despair of making a half crop. Corn, potatoes and vines are parched and dried up. Tobacco is suffering dreadfully.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—Water is growing scarce. The City Council meet to-day to devise means for raising water into reservoirs

VINCENNES, Aug. 23.—A prize fight is to come off between Noah Skinner and Wm. Murray, Aug. 28th, within fifty miles of Vincennes, and is creating quite a stir among the fancy.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 23.—The intensity of heat continues.

Accounts from the tobacco regions indicate not over half a crop.

Geo. Barnacle, German, at Jeffersonville, after drinking whisky with his wife to excess, went out and got half a gallon of beer, which they both drank and died within half an hour. The beer was found to contain arsenic and morphine. The couple were newly married.

A man died at New Albany, yesterday, from sunstroke.

SEYMOUR, Aug. 23.—The extensive carpenter shop of Havens, Carter & Co. and a Christian Church were destroyed by fire to-day. The church was just completed. Havens, Carter & Co.'s loss is about $20,000. There was no insurance.

Twenty men were overcome by the excessive heat, the thermometer being 104° in the shade.

SARATOGA, Aug. 23.—In the trot to-day Mountain Boy beat Lady Thorne in three straight heats. Time, 2.27, 2.27½, 2.25½. Commodore Vanderbilt and his wife were on the ground, attracting much attention.

BOSTON, Aug 23. The well known stallion, Fearnaught, was sold for $25,000

The cattle disease has appeared at Shrewsburg The bronchial tube of the animals killed is filled with thread like worms.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

MADRID, Aug. 22.—Troops are still pursuing the fugitive Carlists.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Telegraph comments on the international boat race, and predicts favorably for the Americans because they have been training for years and constantly acquiring hardness of muscle which is different from the English style, where men have only been training a few months. The Telegraph trusts whatever result, it will increase the kindly feeling and good fellowship between the nations. It thinks the contest will be mainly on the battle of coxswains.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The Empress starts on her eastern tour to-day.

The La Presse says however painful it may be for Spain to accept the suggested solution of Cuban difficulty there is no other plan possible. It is the only way for Spain to save some fragments of the wreck. The value and duration of Cuban independence under the protection of America is another question, the desire to absorb which characterizes the Americans and qualifies them very badly to perform the part of a Platonic protectorate. It is very probable that behind a compromise they are trying to bring out a second edition of the history of Texas.

Horrors in Chicago.

To the Editor of the Times:

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—Is it possible that liberal, philanthropic Chicago can permit the horrors portrayed in the annexed communication to the Philadelphia Press, alleged to exist in the jail of Cook county? If this terrible state of affairs prevail, I ask, for the sake of humanity, that the good people of Chicago at once inaugurate measures for the suppression of the outrages, and adopt such means for the comfort and protection of prisoners as justice and right demand. W.

(Chicago (July 23d) Correspondence Philadelphia Press.)

Chicago bears upon her bosom a malignant, festering tumor. Its smooth, polished exterior is recognized as the Court House, but in the groveling space just above the point where the stony foundation is joined to the ooxy swamp, men, women and children are confined like wild beasts in their dens. These poor outcasts are only accused. Not one of them has been proven guilty of crime. They are here awaiting the motion of the Court. Judges and jurymen are taking a summer respite. In the meantime, not a ray of light enters the loathsome dungeon—not a breath of fresh air ever enters this vestibule of the tomb. The same kind of stench, yet more horrible, is emitted from each den as that noticed before the cages of wild animals in a menagerie. No fragrance of friendly sulphur relieves the tortured senses; and one longs in vain to hear the lapping waters of the river Styx. What the dungeon of the Inquisition was to the dark ages, this city prison is to the civilized world to-day. Sometimes a half dozen offenders are crowded into a single dungeon, and the suffering of these wretches may be compared to that endured in the Black Hole of Calcutta. A single bed is provided for each den. They are literally alive with vermin—the gray, filthy covering eclipsing in hideousness, if that were possible, the decaying habiliments of the grave. A little pale face, belonging to child of a dozen Summers, is pressed against the grated opening, and a weak voice calls, as from a sepulchre. "Oh, lady, can't you help me!"

"My poor child, what have they got you here for?"

"For robbing a money drawer of seven dollars. I lives a little ways out of Chicago, on the railroad."

"Have you a father?"

"Father went to the war and never got back. Mother, she washes. She has tried and tried"—here the childish voice breaks down, and the dim outline of a small, cowering form is seen slinking back in the darkness. A face with great shaggy jaws, surmounted by a tangled mane, with preternaturally large eyes, surrounded by dark rings, appears at the same place, and, between a bark and a growl, finishes the little fellow's sentence—

"Mother hain't got any money."

This man's body is swallowed up in darkness. The slish head is interrogated:

"How long has this child been shut up here?"

"Goin' on two months."

"How long do you think he will be kept here?"

"P'raps till November; he's got to take his turn for his trial with the rest on us. Here, Bill (calling to an invisible comrade), here's a reg'lar woman come to see us; none o' yer fancy." A second face is photographed on the dark background. "Ye see, lady, Bill and I don't mind it; we's been in a tight fix afore, but this little feller is gettin whiter every day, and Bill says he sleeps too long: but we don't wake him up cos he's better off. He's allus dreamin 'bout the cows. Them fellers that carries the keys can't look our dreams up."

Another childish voice breaks the stillness of the gloom.

"Maybe you can help that boy, lady, but you can't help me."

"Why not, my child?"

"Because, I'se a witness. They put me in prison to keep me till a trial comes on; but they lets me walk about this floor through the day, and they don't lock the doors on me when it comes night; but I'se a prisoner, just as much as if I'd stole sumthin'."

Within hailing distance of these barbarities stands the Sherman House, a gorgeous blossom of the highest type of civilization. Within a stone's throw of the slimy dungeons, stately, solemn church spires mock the heavenly purity of ether; and whilst the clergy of Chicago are quarreling about tweedle dum and tweedl-dee, religion languishes like a sick man; and just as the Catholic Church has got out of its late difficulties by pronouncing its Bishop insane, a disputatious mildew has seized his half brother, the Episcopalians, whose doctrines are being aired in the city press as if they were in danger of spoiling.

A SINGULAR CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.—The New Haven Connecticut Register has the following:

A gentleman from Cheshire informs us of a singular case of somnambulism which occurred in that town a few nights ago. A young man living with William Baldwin, arose in his sleep, went to the barn with nothing on but his shirt, harnessed a horse and hitched it into a wagon. The horse taken was very small, while the harness which the sleeper used belonged to a very large horse standing in the next stall. This harness was so much out of proportion that it could not be used without readjusting. This the young man did, taking up the various straps and rebuckling them until he got it to fit. When all was ready he mounted his team, and started in an easterly direction, probably as he was accustomed to go to Meriden, mornings, with milk. About four miles from home he crossed a bridge, and he thinks it was the rumbling of the water beneath that gave him the impression of drowning, which idea so startled him that he awoke. As he had been subject to these singular freaks of mind, he realized the situation at once and drove to a relative's near by, where he arrived about two o'clock in the morning, quite chilled through.

An iron cylinder stove has lately been patented in Bavaria, which may be of use in this region of country, soon to become almost exclusively coal consuming. It is described as consuming its own smoke. The air required in the combustion of the fuel, is introduced through a system of holes two or three inches in diameter, just above the bottom. Seven or eight inches above these are attached the same number of tubes of equal width, which are brought to a red heat in the stove, and conduct heated air into the flame charged with the products of combustion. The draught chimney draws the air through these tubes with greater or less intensity, and it enters from all directions into the stove with considerable rapidity. The flames are thus mixed together and the gases brought into contact, and the current is sufficiently strong to prevent any of the products of combustion from escaping into the room. Owing to the perfect combustion of the fuel only a comparatively small quantity is required, while the room is comfortably heated and well ventilated at the same time. Such an improvement as the above would doubtless be a very economical arrangement in these days of frightful coal monopoly.—Eastern Paper.

Brick Pomeroy on the Chinese.

Brick Pomeroy, in his Democrat, of August 3d, has an editorial article entitled, "Let God's Great Handiwork be for our Use.—Each in its Place." In this article the following remarks are made respecting the Chinese, which we commend to the attention of the Democratic prints of Oregon:

Concerning the Chinese pleasures in San Francisco, there are not two opinions. The latter class are few, and not, we believe, objectionable in personal habits. The mass, however, are filthy in mind and body, and give grievous cause of offense to all of our civilization who come in contact with them. In the rural districts, however, their peculiarities are not so readily noticed to the point of grievous offense. There they follow their various callings, isolated from those to whom they are naturally offensive, and the result is a development of California resources, which, without their peculiar aid, might have long remained unyielding.

With them some of the necessities to [illegible] mining in peculiar districts are found, their patient endurance bringing gain where, with a more noble race in harness, the result would be loss. In many fields they are found peculiarly and even uniquely serviceable. In the growth of grain they are more useful than negroes, and more easily managed; and in the production of olives, already approaching commercial consequence, they have proven of rare value.

Their patient perseverance, fruit, grain and wool have been brought in quantity, quality, and consequent profit, where they would not have been for many years to come without the aid of Chinese labor and expertness. And now, in addition to these, we hear of large tracts of land having been devoted to the production of tea, through importation of the plants and Chinese and Japanese, who understand and are fitted for their growth and care. The same is true of the production of silk, which they are now engaged in raising, and give promise of profitable results. In all these pursuits they seem naturally fitted to succeed better than our hardy and more noble race. All they seem to require is American direction in the leading features of their work, and American management of its commercial requisites.

The work in these fields—work to which, in the climates best calculated for production, our people do not incline to labor—the Chinamen and women seem born to perform. That we have come to need these products is true, and being so why is it not best, while we have land [illegible] for their growth, to import the beings fitted for their care? The crops we need. They have become largely essential to our comfort here; now we import them from the [illegible]. Those who do the work of their culture are not men and women such as we are but if they were they would not be fitted for the work we need. Why not import them, then, with the seed we need? We can care for them better than they are cared for now, and improve their morals, too, as far as may be found consistent with their power for healthful change.

And if they do so well in fruit and silk and tea, why not try them in cotton too. The climates suited to their growth are similar; the peculiar characteristics and surrounding conditions of the work required are the same; they are fitted for the work, and the work for them. They are more docile, more industrious, and are therefore more reliable and more productive than the [illegible]. Why not, then, give them a trial? If they fail they can be turned over to the Indians to [illegible], and kill off as they are done, with the [illegible] now. That they are [illegible] is work to be done that the ox and the mule are not fitted for than we. We do not refuse to [illegible] and also care for them [illegible]. Why, then, should we [illegible] how who are tenure our standard in [illegible]'s range? They were created for some use, and that they have developed. Why, then, with time and [illegible] Creator by epidemic [illegible] rather [illegible] occupy, what he has made, and for our use."

A Talk with an Elephant Trainer—How Elephants are Trained.

A Detroit paper has the following: "Baby Annie," exhibited on Friday and Saturday in this city, is as popular and well known as the majority of human actors who tread the boards instead of the sawdust ring. Like them, she endeavors to please, and in her way feels chagrin as deeply when she fails to receive the approbation believed to be merited. She is now five years old, and though far from her "teens" is nevertheless a pretty good lump of a body, weighing 1,800 pounds. Her history has been carefully kept, and McLaughlin, her trainer, can tell you everything about her.

At the time of her capture she was only two years old; but Smith, her captor, assisted by a party of Africans and dogs, found her as hard to control in her infancy as most women are at mature age. After a few weeks training she was started for the coast, 800 miles away, and Kenyon has yet in his cages two large hyenas that rode in baskets slung over Miss Annie's back. Her cost in New York was $18,000, and at the time of her purchase she was the smallest elephant in the country, and is still the only genuine African elephant. Though she has never been hard pushed to test her endurance on the road, she once took a stretch of forty-two miles over the rocky roads of Pennsylvania in eleven hours, and showed not the least sign of exhaustion.

Miss Annie is a model female—one of the old school—and would as soon twist her head off with her trunk as to harm a human being who treated her courteously. Last winter, in her quarters at Philadelphia, she exhibited love and hate in a very singular manner. Mr. McLaughlin had imbibed rather freely, and returning to the barn, got into a difficulty with a policeman, who was bent on arresting him. The cop had been around the barn a good deal, and was somewhat acquainted with the elephant. The trainer fled to the barn, and getting behind 'Baby' refused to submit to arrest. The M. P. boldly advanced to him out, when the elephant thrust him aside with her trunk. This was repeated several times, the trainer encouraging her, when the policeman gave her an angry blow with his baton and sought to push by. Blowing her shrill trumpet, 'Baby' caught him around the waist, and giving him a strong whirl deposited the frightened blue coat in a barrel of oats thirty feet away. As he had no instructions to arrest elephants, and could not arrest the man without her, he concluded not to press matters further.

At another time last summer, during a hot night, McLaughlin laid down beside 'Baby' on a bale of hay, and soon fell asleep. Near him was the cage of the Bengal tiger, a fierce and ungovernable animal, and treacherous to the last degree. By lying down the beast could get his paws at full length under the bars, and on the morning of that very day he had thus given his unsuspecting keeper a stroke with his claws that tore open the man's cheek in a horrible manner. Restless, McLaughlin rolled about, and the eyes of the tiger glistened as he saw the body coming nearer to his cruel claws. At length, just as one of the keepers entered the door, the trainer rolled down so near that the tiger reached out and caught his clothes. With a savage snarl he was [illegible] for a [illegible], to get the flesh under his paws, when the elephant, who had also been sleeping, rose up at the growl and seeing the situation at a glance, rushed forward before the cage at the door had scarcely advanced a step, and with a blow of her trunk made the tiger let go his hold and scream with pain and fury.

Since her capture she has [illegible] seven hundred pounds in weight and six inch in hight. Three years ago she had not the sign of a tusk; now, she has ivories six inches long, and growing [illegible]. In the summer, when the weather [illegible], she gets a bath at every creek, and has been [illegible] her a dozen pails of water over [illegible] lying in the [illegible]. About twice a week [illegible] gallons of linseed oil [illegible] of it, the hide [illegible]. Her usual [illegible] of oats and one [illegible] of hay, and she drinks [illegible] twenty pails of [illegible]. As [illegible] she is very docile, readily [illegible] nearly stands [illegible]. During [illegible] ignorance of letter [illegible] eyes a little, and [illegible] a repentant [illegible] as this her third person, the person must be sharp who can impose upon her a worthless gift. About four weeks ago [illegible] her a stick of candy which had [illegible] soaked for some time in [illegible] juice. Feeling not to mind the joke, 'Baby' waited a little, and when the joker had almost forgotten the incident, she took up a huge piece of liver lying near the cage of lions, and sent the [illegible] full upon the fellow's breast, knocking him down, and altogether spoiling the [illegible] of his white shirt, and his ideas of superior smartness.

The Mississippi Valley Commercial Convention.

The following is the call issued for the Commercial Convention of the Mississippi Valley:

A Commercial Convention, which recently convened in the city of New Orleans, having recommended the holding of a convention on the Mississippi river, at some convenient time during the present summer, to consider all matters connected with the commerce and trade of the Mississippi river and its tributaries, and the undersigned having been duly appointed a central committee to make arrangements for holding such convention; now, therefore, all the States and communities of the Mississippi valley, desiring to see the great river and its branches free from the fetters, natural or artificial, that obstruct its navigation, or retard its commerce, or in any way hinder the development of the country drained by its waters, are requested to send delegates to meet in convention at the city of Keokuk, Iowa, on the seventh day of September, A. D., 1869, at two o'clock P. M., to use means and to adopt measures for the thorough accomplishment of these desirable ends.

The ratio of representation will be two delegates at large for each State of the Mississippi Valley, and one delegate for each Congressional District in said States, one delegate for each city or town situated on the river, or any of its branches, and one delegate for each five thousand of population of such city or town or fraction over. Chambers of Commerce and Boards of [illegible] of cities and towns along the rivers are requested to see to the selections of delegates from their respective localities. The Governors of the several States of Mississippi Valley are requested to appoint the delegates at large for their States and for the Congressional Districts within the same.

[illegible] St [illegible] Louis.

Under the head, "Marine Insurances," the London Engineer has an article which touches upon the comparative economy and safety of vessels propelled by steam and sails. The following is a summary of the article:

There are only about one [illegible] as many steamers as sailing vessels, on the whole; but they do more than twice the work, in proportion to their number. The entries and clearances of steamers, in the United Kingdom, for instance, are one-fourth of the whole number. A given number of steamers suffer from about twice as many residents as the same number of sailing vessels, so that for a single voyage, or for the same amount of trade, it appears that steam is somewhat safer than sails. But the results in trans Atlantic navigation are more marked. The voyages made by steamers between Europe and the United States in 1868 were one fourth of the whole number reported; the casualties in them were but one-eighth of the whole number; so that the safety of steamers, voyage for voyage, is nearly double that of sailing ships. Another point is to be noted. Not only are steamers twice as secure against casualties of all sorts, but the casualties which do happen to them are not so fatal. In almost all cases the loss by steamer is less; the instances of total loss, both ship and cargo, being very considerably less. But on the other hand steamers suffer twice as much in proportion from collisions as sailing ships, which are more exposed to other casualties of the sea; and many collisions are probably noted which come to little. Whatever may be the case, the fact seems certain that a casualty to a steamer is not usually so grave as a casualty to a sailing ship. The estimates are useful as well as interesting. It is evident also that, year by year, the trade of the world is abandoning all the slower methods of locomotion. Steamers are yearly taking it from sailing vessels, and railroads from canals

ENDORSEMENTS.

OLYMPIA, W. T., March 27, 1869.

C. A. WHITE, Esq.—Dear Sir. Having examined your original map, embracing that portion of Washington Territory west of the Cascade Range, I desire to add my testimony to its value. Having been engaged for a number of years in the surveys from Cape Flattery to the Head of Puget Sound, I have examined this portion of your map more critically than others, and I take pleasure in vouching for its general correctness.

This map will fill a want that has long been felt, not only among the residents of this Territory, but others, who are desirous of obtaining information of this portion of the "Far West," and I trust that we shall soon see it in a form suitable for general distribution.

JAS. S. LAWSON,
Asst. U. S. C. S.

We endorse the annexed opinion of Jas. S. Lawson, Esq., and will add that Mr. Chas. A. White is a practical surveyor, and has had access to the township maps in the two Land Offices in this Territory, as also the Coast Survey charts; and we can vouch for his map of Washington Territory, west of the Cascade Range of Mountains, as being correct, and the only good map of the same territory that has been made.

BRIDGE ACROSS DITCH.—We find the following [illegible] of this important enterprise in the last number of the [illegible] It was furnished that paper by J. F. Mosher, Esq., of this city, who is agent and attorney for Wa[illegible] & Co. The Bulletin says:

The ditch was, when work was resumed here lately, [illegible] forty-five miles, and the present extension is [illegible] three miles, tapping Camp Creek with a full supply of water. In ordinary seasons it will not be necessary even to use Camp Creek—the present terminus, but [illegible] to prevent any failure hereafter, so far as water is concerned, design extending the ditch further on the main Burt river, (a distance of twelve miles) which they will accomplish either this fall or next spring. The portion of the ditch now being constructed by Wa Kee & Co., and the Ditch Company, to Camp Creek, five feet at the top, four feet and six inches on the bottom, and about twenty inches in depth, with embankment on lower side, and [illegible] on top 16 inches. When Camp Creek and the Company intend turning back and enlarging the extension to the size of the ditch being made by Wa Kee & Co. The capacity of the ditch will be 1,000 or 1,100 inches.

Work is progressing satisfactorily to all concerned, and will be completed in a short time. The ditch already has been "puddled." When it is finished its length will be 90 miles.

Mr. McCoy's opinion of the camp is flattering. He says the mines are extensive and rich. He has made a careful examination of the mines for his own information, and is well satisfied. He does not think there will be any large strikes made when water comes, but that there will be plenty that will pay from seven to fifty dollars per day.

THE NEW TARIFF.—For the information of Mr. [illegible] and others we publish the following list of prices [illegible] by the Pacific Railroad. The estimate [illegible] Chicago, and took effect on the 6th inst:

[illegible] and	$3 25	$3 25	$3 25	$3 25
[illegible]nah	3 65	3 60	3 55	3 50
[illegible]	6 30	6 75	6 40	6 60
[illegible]	8 25	7 70	7 05	7 05
[illegible]	9 35	8 65	7 90	7 90
[illegible]	9 60	8 90	8 05	7 85
New York	11 20	10 15	8 85	8 35
[illegible]ston	11 30	10 20	9 00	8 40

Fruit per car load of ten tons, from Sacramento to Chicago, $1,000.
Live stock, per car load of ten head, $945.
Lumber, per car load of ten tons to one consignee, [illegible] to Fort Kearney, $440.
Fruit from Council Bluffs and Omaha and San Francisco, in car load lots when shipped to one consignee, in accordance with [illegible] and quantities as given, from $5 to $5 50 per 100 lbs.

From the above rates it will be seen that those who have under the impression that freights are cheap, are very much mistaken. All charges for freight on fruit [illegible] A. P. R. R. to the point of destination, and if sent [illegible] to Chicago the charges are $200 in addition.

We obtain the above information from a late circular of the Central Pacific Company, and furnished us by Mr. Wadhams, of R. G. Sneath & Co.

RAM RANGE ATTENTION.—Now that our Portland boys, and [illegible] have regained the championship of the State, "and intend to hold it," as they say, [illegible] must be well for them to take a rest from business for a week or so, for recreation and enjoyment, and during that time take a trip over to Victoria and see how [illegible] can play the national game! [illegible] there are two or three base ball clubs [illegible] one of which lately made a trip [illegible] and did [illegible] a club there on their own [illegible] Now we think that a very interesting game might be played if the Pioneers would go over [illegible] them an interscholastic game for the benefit of the great Northwest. We have not the least doubt but that if application was made to the [illegible] Transportation Company in behalf of the Club, [illegible] might be [illegible] for one-half the usual fare, and at that rate it would be a cheap trip for the [illegible] pleasure seeking point of view, besides [illegible] more would attend such an excursion that it would more than balance the reduction made in the price of passage. It would be a fine trip, [illegible] will [illegible] their time and money well spent, [illegible] the beneficial efforts which they may receive from a short and pleasant sea voyage and a short [illegible] of rest from business. We are in for it, and will [illegible] that the trip, with the International match game, shall be executed.

[illegible]—We gladly give [illegible] daily to the [illegible] and [illegible] from Dr. Loryea relative to the [illegible] of the [illegible] tion of which he is Vice President:

OFFICE OF THE OREGON IMMIGRATION AND LABOR EXCHANGE.
PORTLAND, Aug. 24th, 1869.

For the information of our citizens we would state that J. M. [illegible], the Secretary, was instructed by the Executive Committee to visit San Francisco and there learn [illegible] ation of the San Francisco Labor Exchange. Upon his return, he will open the office on First Street [illegible] by the rooms of the Portland Library Association. From the attention our organization has already received [illegible], we have assurance of its perfect success, especially if our citizens will lend us their aid.

We would return thanks to Ben Holliday, Esq., of the North Pacific Transportation Co., and to Messrs. Corbett and [illegible], of the Oregon and California Stage Company, for free passage for our Secretary.

A. M. LORYEA, Vice President.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—In this Court, Hon. M. P. [illegible], Judge, the following proceedings were had yesterday:

Petition of J. C. Cartwright, Benton Killen was admitted to the bar of this Court.

Case of the United States vs Jacob Ripley, indicted for selling liquor to Indians, by consent of counsel defendant allowed until Thursday morning to plead.

Edward Long excused from attendance as a juror.

Case of States vs W. K. Smith; indictment for perjury. The following named jurors were empanneled and sworn to try this cause, viz: H. Hobson, James Martin, Wm. Chase, J. W. Grim, Henry Allen, John A. Taylor, J. A. Shindler, Jesse Applegate, G. R. Duvall, Plympton Kelly, James Glover and C. H. Lewis. J. C. Cartwright for United States; Messrs. Logan, Strong and D. S. Smith for defendant. Testimony commenced on part of plaintiff.

Adjourned till to-day at ten A. M.

SHUT UP.—John B. Gough says, "When I see a man resenting a from a woman's anger, I say: 'Ah, there goes a brave man;' but the moment he turns round and [illegible] her, I cannot help exclaiming: 'Oh, you coward.'" Taking this as a correct rule for measuring a man's courage, Wm. Bentley, of this city, is not brave. He fought "the better part of valor" was to "fight it out," even though his antagonist was a woman, and his wife at that. But in this case, as in all that we ever heard of [illegible] a man undertakes to whip a woman, he [illegible] come out best. The law came down on him, and now he "pines in a dungeon deep," all because he didn't see it in the same light that Gough did. It is needless to say that Gough has become more temperate of late than has [illegible]ley.

RUINS.—Although not an old resident of Portland we can [illegible] ber when no more than three brick buildings were to be seen in the city. Yesterday we counted ninety-seven on Front and First streets, and seven in course of construction. Most of these have been built since 1865, and if no general depression in the business of the country occurs, a large number will be added to these during next summer, as we hear of several parties who [illegible] plate building there. Just here it might be well to call attention to the fact that in most cities the size of Portland "fire limits" are established by law, and it might be well for our people to consider the propriety of inaugurating the measure here.

REBECCA DEGREE.—From the Unionist we learn that a lodge of this degree was instituted in Salem on last Saturday evening, A. L. Stinson being installing officer. The new lodge takes the name of "Rebecca Degree Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F." The officers elect are: A. L. Stinson, N. G.; Mrs. J. Q. Wilson, V. G.; Mrs. E. L. Corner, Secretary; Mrs. Sarah Riely, Treas.; Mrs. E. W. Sayres, Con.; L. M. Wade, W.; I. [illegible] Miller, I. G.; James Duffey, O. G.

FUNERAL OF DR. QUIVEY.—A large number of persons attended the funeral of the late Dr. Quivey yesterday. He was buried with the rites of Free Masonry, a fair representation of that Order being in the procession. Dr. Q. barely arrived in Oregon from Wisconsin, his health being poor when he came.

MILITARY HALL.—It will be remembered that the Anniversary Ball of the Washington Guard will be given at their hall on Stark street this evening. The uniform success attending these parties heretofore, is an assurance that the occasion this evening will be one of pleasure to all who attend. The arrangements are perfected for rendering this one of the most agreeable dancing parties of the season.

HASH.—Not being a linguist we were at a loss to determine the exact meaning of the heading of some miscellaneous [illegible] in one of our city dailies, but the matter is explained by the States Rights Democrat: "A Portland paper having published 'Melange' for some time, comes out a day or two since with a dish of 'Olla Podrida,' which somebody says, being literally interpreted, means 'spanish hash.'

SOUND.—The Nicolson pavement was laid down in 1865. Some of it forming yesterday for the purpose of making repairs on the pipes beneath, showed both the foundation and the blocks to be as sound as they were when first laid. The adaptation and durability of this sort of pavement may be considered as established beyond any reasonable fear of failure.

COMPLETED.—The brick work on Capt. Ankeny's building, on Front street, is now finished, and it will soon be ready for occupancy. It contains three handsome stories in a very desirable portion of the city, for wholesale business of any kind.

CAMP MEETING.—The Cumberland Presbyterians will hold a camp meeting at Newsom's camp ground, beginning September the 10th. Everybody is invited to attend.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamer Orizimmo left San Francisco for Portland yesterday. She will probably arrive Friday or Saturday morning.

Use KANE'S IMPERIAL CONDENSED SOAP. It washes without rubbing. For sale by Allen & Lewis, Corbitt & McCleay, R. G. Sneath and all retailers.

PORTLAND YACHT CLUB.—A meeting of the Portland Yacht Club will be held at the Club rooms, corner of Yamhill and Front street, at 7½ o'clock P. M. All members are requested to be present, as final arrangements for the last Regatta of this season will be made, as well as the transaction of other business of importance to the Club.

GEO. F. BOWMAN, Sec'y.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

The Revenue Bureau estimates that there was more real fine whisky destroyed at the recent fire in Philadelphia than there is left in all the United States.

Democratic newspapers in Iowa are disputing about the spelling of the name of one of their candidates. The gentleman's own testimony is rejected on the ground that "he don't know."

Excursion tickets around the world, via the Pacific Railroad, are to be sold in New York in a short time, at about $1,500. What would our fathers have thought of excursion tickets around the world!

In New York they are still undecided as to whether the German language should be made a part of the course in the public schools. The subject is argued in the newspapers, of course, taking the affirmative with great energy.

What is the position of the Democratic party on the Chinaman? The Democrats of all the South clamor for him, welcome him, and demand that every facility shall be given him to come and work. Per contra, the Democracy of California house, beat, murder, and drive him away.

Annexation has been gathering strength in Nova Scotia, though the subject has been but little agitated lately. Two factions are contending for precedency in the matter. One favors annexation directly to the United States; the other favors a declaration of independence from England and the Canadian Confederations as a preliminary step.

OREGON.

The number of letters mailed from Jacksonville during the past month averaged seventy per day.

The La Grande paper says: The parties engaged in digging the ditch to drain the table lands of this valley, are progressing rapidly with their work. They have eight teams with scrapers attached, cleaning out the bottom of the ditch.

From the La Grande Sentinel: J. R. Wilkinson has purchased a fine large steam boiler for his flouring mill in this city. It weighs about 4,000 pounds, to be immediately put in working order upon its arrival from Umatilla—which will be some time next week.

The Unionist says. Two Indian convicts named John and Tommy, were pardoned out of the State Penitentiary by Governor Woods, on the certificate of the attending physician, Dr. Carpenter, which recites that "the convicts are so diseased as to endanger the health of the other prisoners."

Chas Porter, of Union, as we learn from an Eastern Oregon paper, will canvass Baker county in a few days for the purpose of obtaining means to advertise Eastern Oregon abroad, and secure to that part of the State a portion of the emigrants coming from the Atlantic States in quest of homes. After Baker county is canvassed he will also proceed to Umatilla and see what can be done in that quarter. The idea is to gather a correct exhibit of the wealth and resources of Eastern Oregon, have it printed and scattered along the line of the railroad and through the Atlantic States.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 25, 1869.

Something New Under the Sun.

A new doctrine of political economy has been introduced among us for the delight of our minds, for the development of our country and for the profit and enrichment of our race. This doctrine is that it is not the vigorous and laborious class of life who live frugally and save their earnings, that contribute most to the production of wealth; but that it is the class who spend most, who waste their substance and squander their earnings in all sorts of improvident ways, that produce the greatest benefits to the country which is so fortunate as to possess them for citizens. The Oregon City editor is the champion of this doctrine,—a doctrine which is a startling innovation upon the old saws of Benjamin Franklin, and which would have made all such old fogies as Adam Smith stare and gasp. It is a doctrine, too, utterly at variance with the antiquated notions of those old law writers who under the title of "Guardian and Ward," have maintained that spendthrifts and prodigals are an injury both to themselves and the community, and that they should not be allowed to control their own affairs and squander their property. Moreover, it is a doctrine which discards the lesson taught in the parable of the prodigal son, and maintains that the son who went abroad and wasted his patrimony was a more useful member of society than the son who remained on the old estate and lived a frugal and industrious life. But, not to be tedious, we ask the reader's permission to continue the illustration of this subject with the following extract from the Oregon City paper:

A Chinaman cannot do as much work as a white man and he works cheaper; he works for low wages and he lives as cheaply as he works. Give him rice and pork or a chicken and some cheap covering for his body and he is content. Where a Chinaman spends one dollar for the necessaries of life, a white man would spend at least ten, and the money would be kept in the country. But instead of spending his money for a comfortable living, the Chinaman saves the most of his earnings, saves the coin and sends it to his owner in China; thus constituting a constant drain upon our specie circulation.

Here we have it, broadly stated, that it is not the class who save most, but the class who spend most, who are of the greatest use to the country. Let it therefore be the study of our law-makers, magistrates and teachers of all kinds to discourage frugality, and to instruct us hereafter that prodigality and extravagant living [illegible] the best [illegible] for the people and the country, in that it tends to make [illegible] lively," and "keep the money in circulation." If [illegible] let it be [illegible] and that consumers and spendthrifts, not producers and savers, are our most useful [illegible] of [illegible]. The [illegible] son put his money in circulation and was therefore the very [illegible] while his slow, plodding brother, who stayed at home, tended the bulls and [illegible] manure over his father's lands, was a very [illegible] fellow!

How [illegible] it has [illegible] that the way for a community, as well as for an individual to [illegible] prosperous and manly in [illegible] is [illegible] to live freely and [illegible] of their earnings as possible, but [illegible] this is [illegible], and the man who [illegible] is the man who [illegible] of the [illegible] who pays China [illegible] labor will [illegible] to [illegible]

But it is [illegible] of spending his [illegible] of his earnings [illegible] it to his owner in China [illegible] and in so doing he sets an example which many improvident white men would do well to [illegible]. But he [illegible] so much of his wages here as one [illegible] to purchase his living, and this is no small part of [illegible] cause. He is a purchaser of [illegible] pork and of [illegible] other products of the country; he buys various articles of clothing from our merchants and imports other articles from China; he consumes large quantities of dutiable goods, and thus contributes to the customs. That he sends some coin to China is true; but he sends it like an honest man to pay the cost of his labor here to this country. And why shouldn't he send it? Has he not obtained it honestly by hard labor? Has he not a right to do what he pleases with his money? What [illegible] can [illegible] do to interfere? Besides, has he not created by his labor, giving us a full equivalent for the money which has been paid him? Do not the products of his labor remain? This, certainly, cannot be sent out of the country. Many well-thinking people fall into the error of supposing that money is the only species of wealth, and that when a dollar is earned by a laborer who sends it abroad, the country is by so much the poorer. They do not reflect that this laborer has created in the country permanent improvements, substantial wealth, fully equal in value to the money which has been paid him and which he has sent away. Besides, why should we complain that these laborers send money out of the country when we are continually sending it out ourselves? We import annually more than four hundred million dollars worth of goods, and a large part of the money that we pay for them goes to China. Every year we send tens of millions to that country to pay for articles produced by Chinese labor. Is it so much worse for us to employ Chinese labor here than to employ it there? We have a proposition to make to the Democracy who profess to be so anxious to stop the competition of Chinese with white labor. Let them adopt the most practical way of stopping it, and refuse to hire Chinese. Let Democrats prove their faith by their works, by giving white labor the preference, even at greater prices. If Democrats will refuse to hire Chinamen they will do much to discourage their coming. But they must go further, and refuse to purchase or consume any article which comes from China, or is produced by Chinese labor. This they are bound to do if they would be consistent. By this means they would "keep the money in the country." But until they cease to employ Chinese labor intelligent and honest people will be bound to pronounce their professed zeal for white labor nothing but sham and moonshine.

The Oregon City editor also wants to know "why Chinamen have been encouraged to come to this country?" Let him ask his new-found friends of the Democratic party. They ought to know, for they are the very party who "encouraged" and induced this immigration at its beginning. And when he says that "the Democratic party and Democratic journals have continually oppposed them," he only shows that he has not been a member of the party long enough to know much about its acts. Under Mr. Buchanan's administration treaties were formed with China, and thousands of those people flocked to America. No effort was made to stop them. The Republican party have added no inducement for them to come which did not exist when that party obtained control of the Government. The Democracy were the pioneers in this matter of inducing the Chinese to come here, and we are willing they should have all the credit for it which such an act deserves.

An Unjust Imputation

Several newspapers "up the valley" are complaining that distinguished strangers who have visited Oregon this summer have gone no farther than Oregon City and Dalles, and say, justly, that they could obtain but a very imperfect idea of the State by such hasty visits and short tours. But our newspaper friends very unjustly intimate that the influence of Portland prevented them from journeying through the State and seeing its resources for themselves. The Unionist reminds us that "there are men in Portland growing rich solely by our (the valley) trade, and who are dependent on our growth and prosperity for their own future success, who should feel willing and are able to aid in the work of making our resources known." A number of other papers have also spoken of this matter as if our visitors had been dissuaded by Portland people from looking further in the interior of our State. Now we assure friends that they are laboring under an egregious mistake. It is within our own positive knowledge that the people of Portland used all the persuasive means in their power to induce the Congressional Committee and other visitors who have been here to travel over the State, or at least to visit Salem. But they could not be induced to go, stating that they were in too great haste to tarry long enough for the purpose. The people at large throughout the State may assure themselves that Portland has no interests inimical to theirs, and that so far from trying to prevent visitors from abroad from going among them, Portland has used every exertion to induce them to remain long enough to take a general tour through the State and become acquainted with its wants and resources.

In General.

It seems that all the Democratic sarcasm and cutting irony which has been expended upon that present of a New Jersey farm to Pres't Grant is waste ammunition. Notwithstanding the circumstantial accounts of the presentation which were published, the whole thing turns out to be a canard. No fifty acres of land, no lands at all have been presented to President Grant, because when offered he firmly declined them.

The accounts of the Alabama riot read like all the rest the negroes were at fault; they commenced it; they came to the political meeting prepared, a thousand strong, armed to the teeth with "pistols, knives and razors," while the inoffensive white Democrats came merely to look on. And yet when the fight commenced, three negroes were killed and no whites! As the Democratic press expressed it in head lines, with delightful unconsciousness and inconsequence, "Negroes go to a political meeting armed—Fire on the whites—Several blacks killed and wounded!"

The Cincinnati Enquirer revives the old falsehood that the public debt has increased since the war closed, and pretends to prove it by omitting the amount in the treasury. Democratic papers presume justly on the ignorance of their readers by copying this story. The Enquirer, being brought to account by a Republican neighbor, insists upon the truth of its previous statements, and distorts figures through a column editorial to make in its position. This is characteristic of the press of the party which the Enquirer serves. We notice that some papers much nearer us are also disposed to assert the same shallow falsehoods.

It is somewhat amusing, but not at all surprising, that the Democracy have elected, or claim to have elected, the first "nigger" Congressman. But there is a prospect that he will not get the seat, whereat journals of that party are terribly indignant. The Albany Democrat is enraged because "Norton, the representative negro Congressman from Virginia, is about to be robbed of his seat by a white Radical," and remarks that the way in which it is proposed to do it "illustrates the facility with which the Radicals can slide around their own legislation when it gets in their way." Equally distressed is the La Grande Sentinel, which complains that, "since the election of one or two conservative negroes in Virginia it has been discovered that no negroes can go to Congress unless they have been citizens seven years. In consequence of this discovery the Radicals will deny Hon. Dr. Norton (colored) his seat in Congress. We are sorry that such is the case." As the admission of this "nigger" seems to be so essential to Democratic happiness, we hope Congress will let him in, so that Hon. Joseph Smith, who is now very lonely, can have another political associate to add to the very few he now has in that body.

THE WEST.

Cope District, which has of late attracted so much attention, is situated some five or six miles south of the State line of Nevada.

The Boise Statesman says that their visitors, the grasshoppers, are leaving—in fact there is no inducement for them to remain, as nearly everything in the shape of a vegetable has been eaten by the pests.

It is stated that Hill Beachey, the enterprising stage owner of Idaho, Montana and Nevada, is lying dangerously ill of erysipelas, in Connecticut, whither he had gone on a visit to his old home and friends.

The Vallejo, Cal., Advertiser states that E. M. Benjamin & Co. have contracted to put up a large three story brick building in that place for Admiral Farragut. Is the Admiral trying a little real estate speculation in Vallejo, or does he intend to make his residence there?

The Olympia Transcript is told that they have a habit of exchanging mails down at Neah Bay, something after this fashion: When a vessel appears in sight, the denizens of that region man a canoe, take in a big halibut or cod fish, and proceed out to hail the craft. Arriving along side, they inquire for and secure all the late papers the vessel may have on board, and then quietly throwing the halibut on deck, start for shore. This they call exchanging mails.

From a Puget Sound paper: In Squak Lake, King county, at a point some four hundred yards from the shore, there are, we are informed by those who have been there, a forest of large fir trees, standing upright, the tops of which are mostly under water; but a few of them reach out a few feet. It is believed that a section of the country has, at a comparatively late date, sunk at that point, and so perfectly was the sinking accomplished that the trees retained, perfectly, a standing position.

A Walla Walla paper says: Mr. A. Schumacher, who arrived here a few days since, reports a rich strike. In company with five others, he has been mining in a spur of the Blue Mountains, near the head waters of Burnt River, for over a year. This year they succeeded in getting water fairly on their claim, and in six weeks they took out $17,000. It will require several years to work out the claim, and at this rate of progression the owners may fairly expect to be millionaires before the mine is exhausted.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO AUGUST 24.

The Weather and the Crops.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 23.—It looks like rain to-night.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Not a drop of rain since August 4th, the night of the great whisky fire, and no accounts of any rain in the interior. The corn crop of the State is greatly damaged by the drouth.

A special meeting of the City Council was held to-day to consider the water famine. $25,000 were appropriated to the families of destitute canal boatmen upon the Schuylkill river. Order has been given to the Chief Engineer to take any measures proper to raise water into the basins. The Fairmount engines threw the water 96 feet high.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 23.—The weather is hot, the thermometer being 96° at four P. M. No rain since the 6th. The crops are injured in many counties of Tennessee. A timely rain may yet bring both crops out.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—The mercury stood 101° at noon.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 24.—The crops generally in the western part of the State have not been excelled since 1855. The potatoes suffer from the rot, caused by the drouth. Everything else, including fruit, is abundant.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. The weather and crop reports from the leading localities of the southwest generally announce hot, dry weather, which in some sections has been greatly prolonged. All accounts represent that the corn and tobacco crops are greatly injured and will be short from a quarter to a half of the past year's yield. In the greater part of Virginia, no rain has fallen for eighty days. Notwithstanding, the crop prospects are reported good. The rust and the premature opening of bolls of cotton on account of the drouth, are reported in some sections; but on the whole, cotton crop reports, generally, are favorable.

Cincinnati Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 24.—Rev. J. L. McKeown, of Union Chapel, has been elected President of Albion College, Michigan.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has arranged for shipping flour from Indianapolis and Baltimore without breaking bulk, twenty cents a barrel cheaper than the rates to New York, and proposes by saving dockage, handling, etc., to make rates of flour from these places thirty cents a barrel cheaper than via New York.

The Red Stockings beat the Southrons, of New Orleans, to-day, 35 to 3.

The Meeting at Gettysburg.

GETTYSBURG, Penn., Aug. 22.—Gov. Geary and other participants of the war will arrive to-morrow. Only one Confederate officer, Colonel Walker Harrison, has yet arrived.

Gen. Lee, in acknowledging the invitation to be present, says his engagements will not permit, and he adds that it is to no wise interest to keep open sores, but follow the example of those nations which try to obliterate the marks of civil war and consign it to oblivion.

The Press says that New York, Philadelphia, Washington and other cities were represented in the meeting of officers held to-night. They have arranged a programme of proceeding which simply designates the various positions and points for each day's session.

From Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 23.—General Ames has issued an order to the commanders of military posts in the State, directing them not to obey in future any writ of habeas corpus issued by the United States District Attorney or Circuit Court, or order of such Court, for the release of prisoners. Also, directing them to report by telegraph the service of such writ or order.

Miscellaneous.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A closely contested game of base ball, between the Nationals of Washington and the Mutuals of New York, was won by the former—18 to 16.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—John B. Vallee, formerly a prominent merchant here, died to-day.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Gen. Walbridge, of Ohio, who lately resigned the Presidency of the Oriental and Mediterranean Steamship Company, has arrived at Omaha to join the United States Commission to inspect the Union and Central Railroads.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Aug. 23.—The Press Ball occurs on August 31st. Among the managers are Gen. Beauregard. The Turkish Minister, Gen. Wise, Senator Bright, and ten ex-Confederate Generals are here, including Lee. Beauregard will not be present at Gettysburg.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The profits on one years' scavengering of the public streets, under the present contract, amounts to $33,506.

The undertakers' quarrel over the dead body of Mrs. Sutton was concluded by the interposition of the police, who gave the body over to the undertaker selected by the Coroner, who buried it.

Several prominent Wall street speculators are arranging to present Mr. Vanderbilt with a silver set.

Several prominent New York Democrats have been invited to take the stump in Ohio. Hutchins, Tweed, Garvin and Powers will probably accept.

There are fears of a water scarcity unless rain falls soon. The water in the Croton lake is lower than was ever known.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Aug. 23.—Major Loomis Meritage, formerly of the 10th Tennessee Infantry, afterwards an officer on Gen. Gillem's staff, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the head. Cause, mental despondency. He was formerly in the Austrian army.

Cuban Affairs.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The Tribune's New York special says the Cuban Junta was in session all day over over the Spanish Cable news. Most of the the Cubans in New York are opposed to cession of the Island of Cuba to the United States. It is understood that orders have been sent to Cuba for a cessation of hostilities.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Advices to the 13th to sympathizers give an account of the fight between a portion of Gen. Jordan's command and the troops of Valmazeda, near Puerto Padre. The Cubans numbered less than six hundred and were attacked by a force of Spanish regulars and volunteers over one thousand strong, and at first were compelled to retire. Afterward they rallied, secured a more formidable position, and repulsed the Spaniards. The loss of the Cubans was 140 killed and wounded. The Spanish loss is represented to be more than double that number. The fight had been most desperate. The Cubans fighting with irresistible earnestness.

HAVANA, Aug. 24.—Col. Nicolon, with five hundred men and two pieces of artillery, attacked and routed four hundred insurgents near Jesitaen in the central department. The latter left twenty men killed.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Telegraph in a sporting article to-day, says many of the best judges of boating offer to bet two to one on the Oxfords. It predicts that the Oxonians will win, but believes the Harvards will make a better fight than is supposed.

The Harvards desire a contradiction of the rumor that they have adopted the English style of rowing. They say the match is as much a contest of styles as men. The Harvards express satisfaction at the arrangements made for them, and the results of the practice on the Thames. They have not yet decided which boat they will take for the race. They propose to invite the Prince of Wales and Mr. Motley, the American Minister, to accompany the crew on the day of the race, and have tendered the use of the Harvard launch for that purpose.

DROGHEDA, Ireland, Aug. 23.—An open air meeting was held here in favor of granting amnesty to the Fenians. The bands played popular Fenian airs, which were enthusiastically received. Speeches were made and resolutions adopted declaring that further detention is unwise and unjust.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA CITY, Aug. 24.—B. Maesfretti, a native of Italy, loved a country woman, the sister of Angelo Lombardi, but the brother objected to the arrangement and quarreled with Maestretti and concluded this disagreement by shooting him through the head with a revolver, causing instant death. To-day Lombardi gave himself up and is now in prison. Street versions of the affair represent it as a case of murder most foul.

A little step son of John Bray, while flying his kite, walked backwards into a shaft near the Imperial Company's works, and fell a distance of one hundred and fifty feet. A windlass and rope were immediately procured and a man went down and found the boy alive and brought him up, but he soon died of his injuries.

A fire this morning in the old wooden building used as an assay office by Butterfield & Co., in the rear of B. F. Sherwood & Co's, was totally destroyed. The stocks of adjoining tenements south were injured by removal. Hedger & Noes' photograph gallery was somewhat burned. All losses are covered by policies in the Pacific and North British companies.

A strong delegation of the curls and crinoline of D street, were before the police court this P. M., for a general row.

The bullion shipment on the 23d amounted to $27,842 72.

Train came in 5 40 on Wells, Fargo & Co's buck board—the fastest time he ever made with horse-flesh. Twenty two miles in one hour and thirty minutes.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The Republican Municipal Convention met last night and endorsed the nomination of W. H. Rhoades by the Taxpayer's Convention for District Attorney. Chas R. Story was nominated for Supervisor of the eighth ward. Jos. McCord was nominated for School Director of the twelfth ward. The County Committee met last night and adjourned sine die, when the new County Committee organized by electing C. C. Felton Chairman, F. A. Elliott Vice President, Benj Hall Secretary and H. R. Reed, Treasurer. M. Estes, nominee for State Senator, addressed the committee and urged the calling of a public meeting for Wednesday night. On motion, the chairman was instructed to call a ratification meeting for to-morrow evening. A proposition to employ men to examine poll lists in each ward to detect illegal voters, was adopted.

The Democratic County Committee met last night and decided upon a ratification meeting on the last night before election, at Platt's Hall. The Committee then went into Executive session with closed doors.

A fire occurred at one o'clock A. M. to-day, resulting in the partial destruction of a stable on the corner of Clay and Stockton streets. Two cans containing camphene, all on fire, were taken from the cellar, which shows that the fire was the work of an incendiary. This is the second attempt made to destroy this building.

A building occupied by Spear & Co., grocers, near the Butcher town bridge, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss to their stock, $1,000, which was fully insured.

James Fogarthy, employed with Cubery & Co., job printers, had his toes badly crushed yesterday afternoon, by being entangled in a printing press.

Mary A. Long charges Phillip Rosenbaum, in the Police Court to-day, with having assaulted her this morning with a heavy cane.

Capt Jonathan Williams, an old resident of California and agent for the Sacramento River Freight Company, died suddenly of heart disease, at his residence in Oakland, this morning. He was driving around town yesterday, apparently in good health.

The P. M. S. S. Co.'s steamer Montana arrived from Panama this morning.

The P. M. S. S. Co. announce a reduction in passenger rates between here and New York, and hereafter but two classes of tickets will be sold; cabin, $100; steerage, $50.

Mining Stocks.

Mining stocks to-day were moderately dealt in, though evincing less buoyancy than in general. Evening sales: Ophir, 24; Savage, 52; Chollar Potosi, 19½; Hale & Norcross 11½; Crown Point, 30; Yellow Jacket, 49; Kentuck, 18½; Gould & Curry, 8½; Imperial, 50. Belcher, 19.

Monetary.

New York—Gold to-day opened at 132¼, closed same.

Five Twenties of 1862, 122¾; five twenties of 1867, 120¾.

New York and Liverpool Markets.

NEW YORK—Wheat dull; nominally $1 75@1 80.

Flour—dull.

Liverpool—Wheat not quoted.

San Francisco Markets.

Flour—sales 250 bbls superfine, interior brand, private.

Wheat—quiet, apparently little demand for shipping. Sales include 2,500 sks inferior, $1 30@1 50; 800 sks good milling $1 60; we quote good to choice shipping nominal at $1 70@1 75. The latter is an extreme figure. At the close we hear of a sale of 500 sks choice milling at $1 75.

Barley—coast, 95c.; good new brewing, $1; range for old, $1 25@1 35.

Oats—sales include 200 sks fair feed, $1 30; 300 sks do, $1 37½; 300 sks good, $1 50; range for light to choice California is $1 25@1 55.
